

PLEASE leave the No-Call List! We are finally able to sit down as a family and have our dinner undisturbed without annoying telemarketers interrupting. If I want to buy something, I will locate them. I don't want to be bothered at home. Our homes are our only sanctuary from the outside world. Please don't take that away.